WEST CHESTER, HAIL, ALL HAIL

ALMA MATER

Tune Russian National Anthem

West Chester, hail, all hail, noble and strong,
To thee with loyal hearts, we raise our song,
Swelling to Heaven high, our praises ring,
West Chester, hail, all hail, of thee we sing.

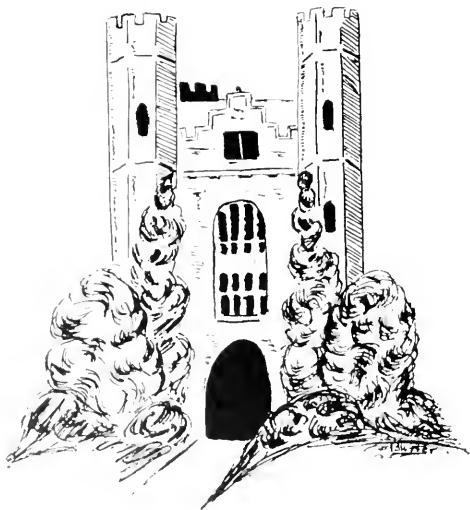

Majesty as a crown rests on thy brow,
Pride, honor, glory, love before thee bow;
Ne'er can thy spirit die, thy walls decay,
West Chester, hail, all hail, for thee we pray.

West Chester, hail, all hail, guide of our youth,
Lead thou thy children on to light and truth:
Thee when death summons us, others shall praise,
West Chester, hail, all hail, through endless days.

DEDICATION

As head of the Social Studies Department, he has taught us to see visions of glorious days of the past; with him as an eager guide, we have relived the eras of Columbus, Lincoln, and the many other famous figures of history with whom he has become intimately acquainted through constant research.

As class adviser, he has helped us to surmount successfully any and all difficulties which have come to us during our senior year; with his cheerfulness and sound optimism as an example, we have met and solved the problems which have threatened the perfection of our last and most eventful year of college. As a sincere and loyal friend, he has given us new encouragement to seek ever the truth, to follow always the good, and to love above all things the beautiful.

The warmth of his friendly affection, the integrity of his beliefs, the inspiration of his teachings, and the calm, steadfast force of his personality will be among the most cherished memories of our years at West Chester.

Therefore, in grateful recognition of his friendship, scholarship, and leadership, we, the Class of 1944, dedicate our yearbook SERPENTINE to Dr. Charles W. Heathcote as a tribute to his many years of service to our college and its students.

DR. CHARLES W. HEATHCOTE

FOREWORD

All about us, day by day, we observe numerous changes taking place in our college—decrease in enrollment, changes in curriculum, departure of old friends, both faculty and students, and arrival of new ones. Some of these changes we welcome as a breath of clean air, driving away what might become academic stuffiness; others we deplore, feeling that they destroy a bit of our beloved college that can never be replaced.

Yet in the midst of these constant changes, good and bad, we recognize an unchanging steadfast spirit that has grown with West Chester from its very inception, a spirit best expressed by the words of our Alma Mater. Beginning with the splendid tribute "West Chester, Hail, All Hail" and ending with the eternal promise "through endless days," it reveals the undying glory that survives all change.

It is an intangible thing, this feeling or emotion which makes a college vibrant and alive; yet we hope that, with our Alma Mater as a theme, we may somehow in this book, through scenes of our everyday life, show that spirit of West Chester which we know existed in the glorious halcyon days of the past, which we now feel in the speed-driven, war-torn days of the present, and which we hope will be in the peaceful to-morrow to come.

"Majesty as a crown rests on thy brow" Twin sentinels furnish a dignified, academic welcome to West Chester The Auditorium where we have our daily chapel exercises Offices of Dr. Swope and Dean Menhennett The Business Office and "Eight trolley tickets, please" The All-Star Program—lovely ladies in evening dress; and students, more plainly clad, scurrying to the balcony Dreams of our last exercises in this building—graduation.

The Library

Stately white columns and green serpentine walls Stacks of books on many subjects Freshman library classes where we learned the rudiments of Library Science the Dewey Decimal System "Shh, quiet please" The Juvenile Room, beloved by the Demonstration School pupils The Curriculum Laboratory and the periodical room "An evaluation of Keats' contribution to English Literature? You might try"

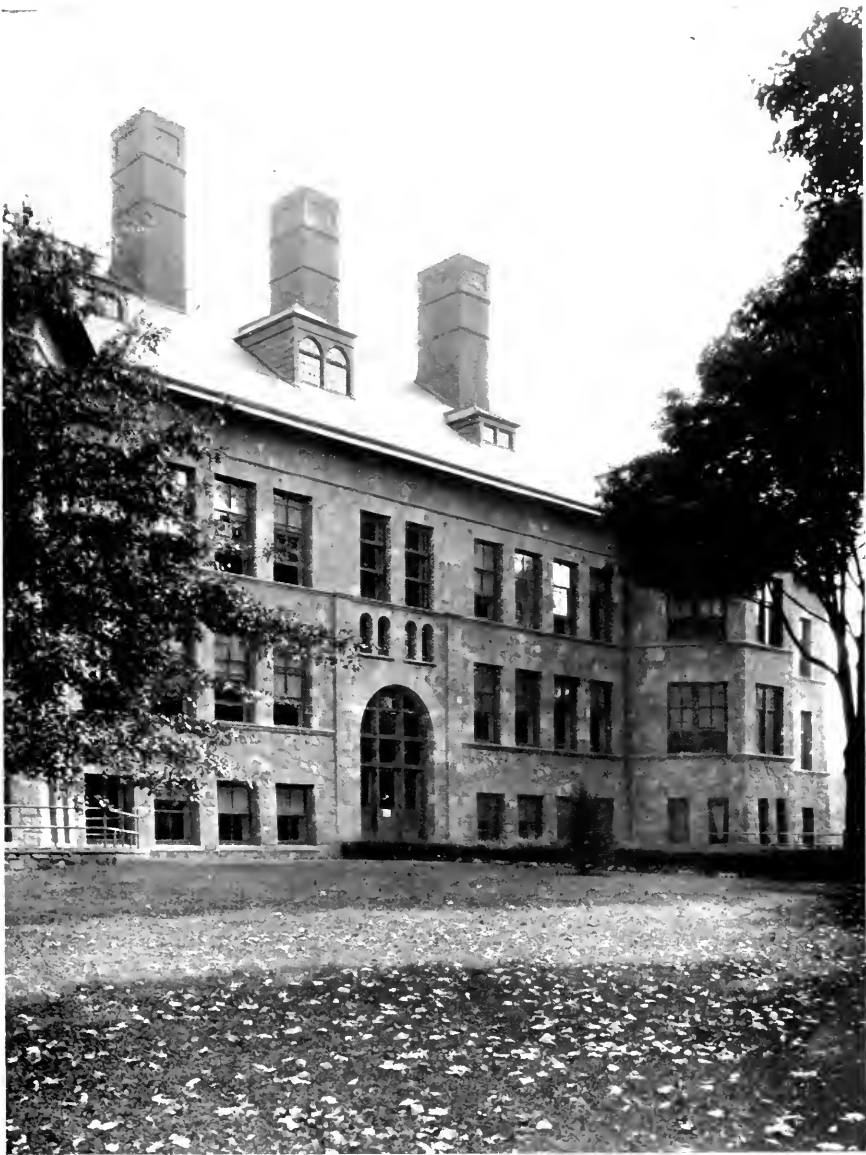

New Education Building

Shining and bright, like a new beginning Getting lost and confused like any "frosh" even though a sedate sophomore The new day room's luxurious and lovely That fatal December eighth when we listened to the declaration of war over the sound system—sunlight spilling over the desks and the grim faces of our boys, so soon to leave us.

The President's Home

Our White House . . . close-clipped lawns and graceful trees . . . scene of our Freshman reception . . . "Hallowe'en Hilarium" — blue demins and checked shirts; "Swing your partner"; tartly cider and the dull orange glow of jack-o-lanterns . . . gracious living and warm-hearted hospitality.

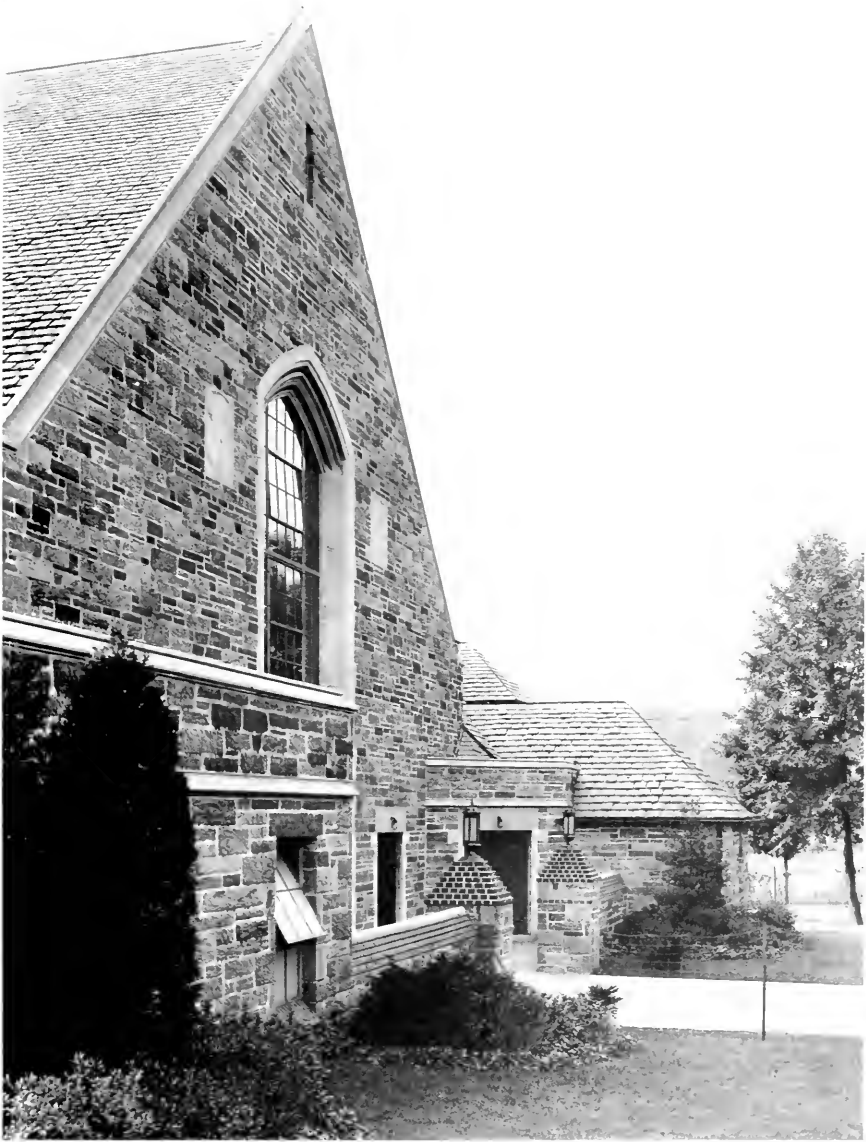

Old Recitation Hall

Steps worn smooth by countless feet . . . Memories cherished by the seniors of freshman geography in A-1 and hygiene amidst white rats and guinea pigs in the science room . . . Drivers' clinic where we learned about our reaction time and how to keep our minds on the road . . . Barracks and classrooms for the army men—boys in khaki leaning from every window to better enjoy campus in the spring.

The Infirmary

Where we get those pink cards for absences due to illness . . . Miss Eves and Mrs. Bonsall, friendly "angels of mercy" . . . that "fire-water" throat spray, that strangely enough does work a cure . . . adhesive tape for "Health Eds" who sprain wrists or ankles; and aspirin for weary seniors with headaches from student teaching.

Ehinger Gymnasium

Proud tribute to the sportsmanship of West Chester . . . wrestling matches and basketball games . . . "Roar, Rams, Roar" . . . the rousing fight song . . . Physical fitness classes for men students . . . Health Education tumbling, climbing, and calisthenics . . . echoes of the dances held here during our freshman year.

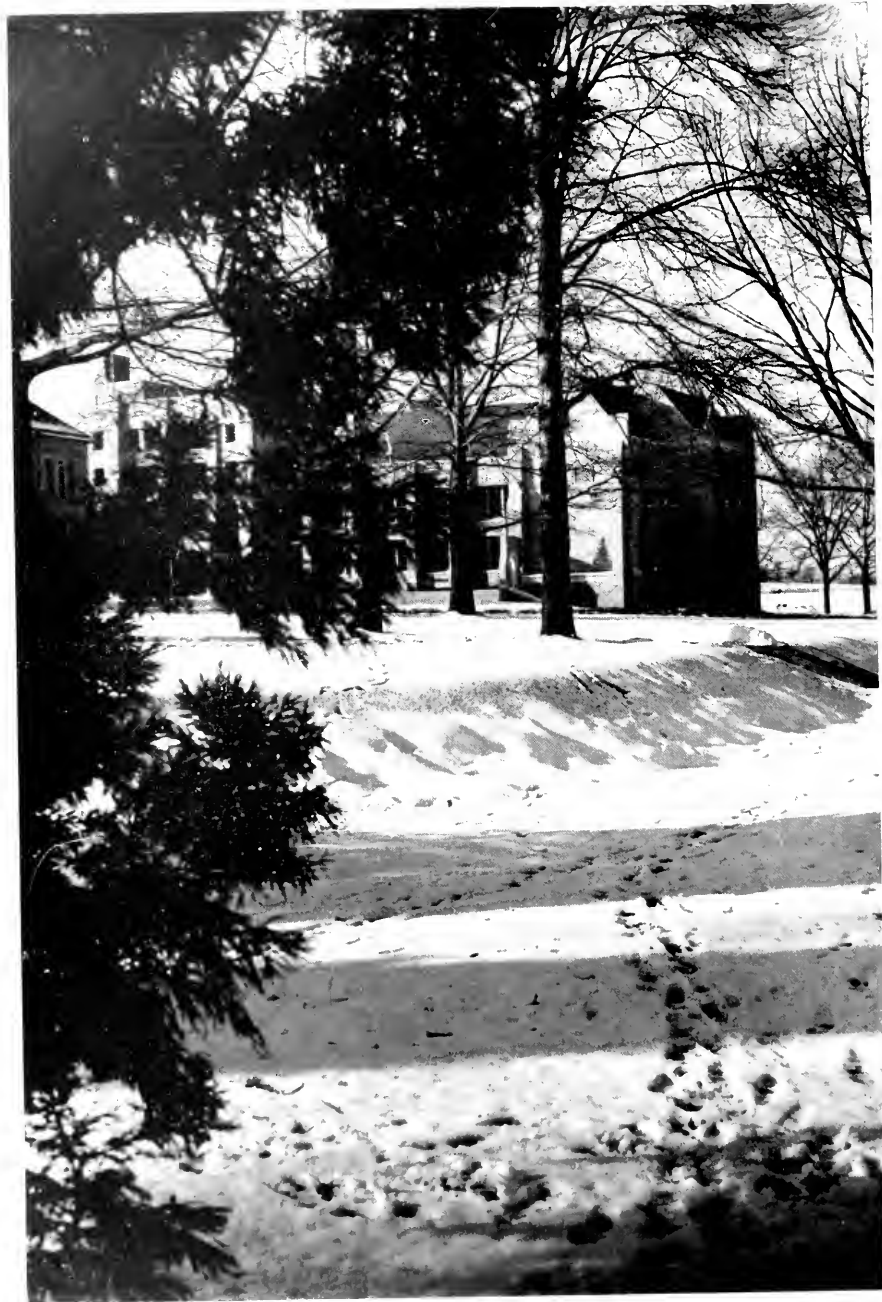

Demonstration School

Dr. Daily's domain . . . psychology observations . . . former home of Dr. Staley's language classes . . . cherubs in chambray and angels in knee-pants . . . hop-scotch and marble games in the spring; snowmen in the winter.

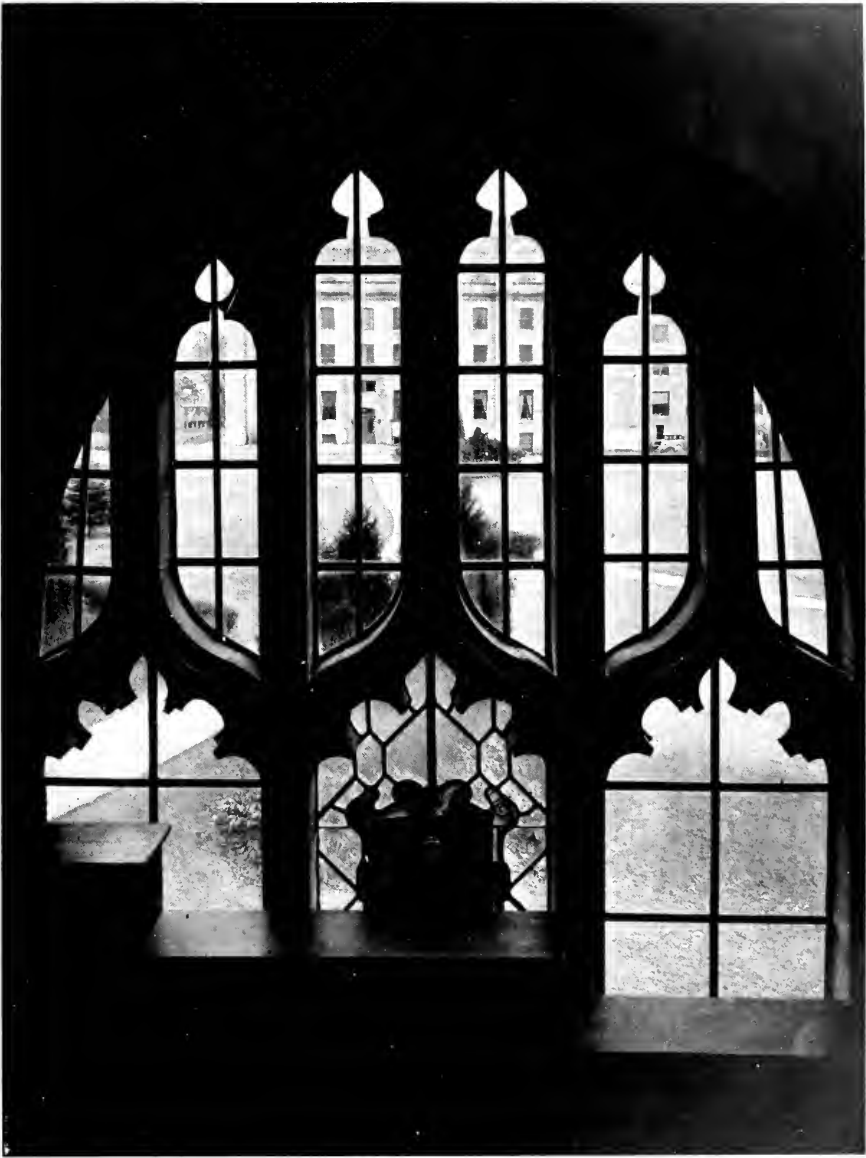

Old Gymnasium

Painful recollections of those physical "wrecking" classes—duck-waddle; touch your toes; now, bend! . . . Roller-skate hockey . . . Folk-dancing—the Virginia reel and polka; "Bow to your partner and skip on down" . . . Scene of the renowned "Health Mill".

Footprints in the Snow

*Glistening white drifts in the chapel "meal" Snowballs flying across Quad
Gay scarfs and red rubber boots Carol singing in chapel and "Finale Bells"
Fingling toes and frost-bitten fingers "Only two weeks until Christmas vacation!"*

Chapel Windows

Sunbeams glinting on a dwindling student body Seven hundred singing like two thousand, ever mindful of our boys so far away The memory of Miss Farnham's talk about the gargoyles The still, sad solemnity of the services for "Uncle Ned" Snowflakes falling slowly and "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" A glimpse of green trees newly budded "Once more, dear home."

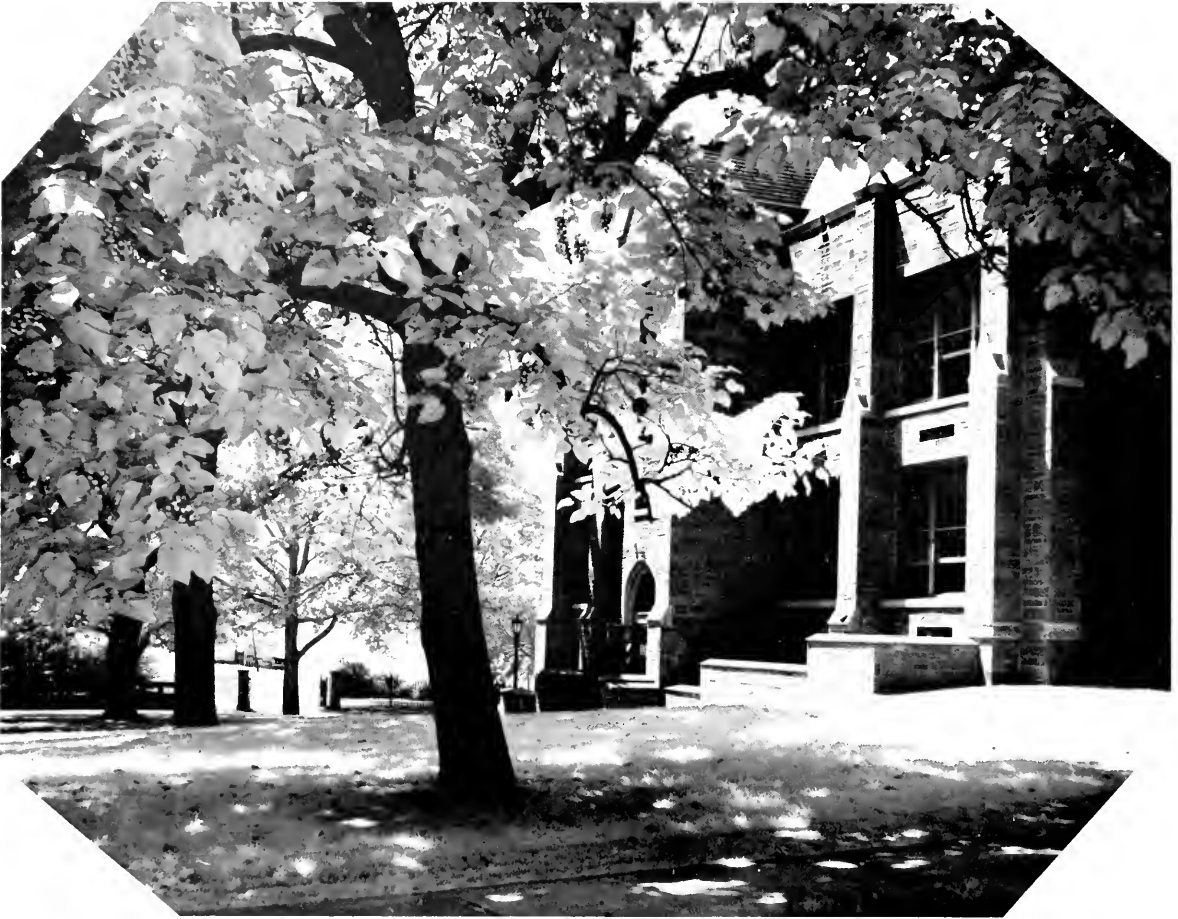

Wayne Hall

Once the dormitory for men students . . . music students practicing on clarinets, drums, violins, flutes and what-have-you . . . The "Wayne Hall Follies", and that dean of deans, "Dr." Roach . . . barracks for the Army Postal School - military men neat and natty marching past in military precision.

Ehinger Gymnasium at Night

Bright lights shimmering through the darkness Tense moments, much excitement, and high spirits as the game within progresses "West Chester State, fight!" Cheerleaders eager and gay in their purple, gold, and white The power-house smoke-stack, a lonely silhouette against the sky.

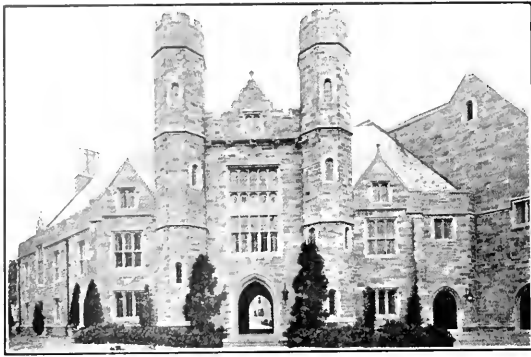

New Education Building

The south entrance of the latest addition to our campus . . . gray stone walls and warm golden sun . . . rare campus trees in autumn glory . . . eager students streaming from classes to Main Dorm . . . "Wasn't that a terrific Soc. test?" "Hello, Jane. You have some mail in your box." "Don't they know that day-students have to live too?" . . . Oh, the complaints, the groans and grumbles, and the songs of joy these old trees and these more recent walls have heard!

Main Dormitory

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

RAYMOND S. SHORTLIDGE

With the rapid changes which are constantly occurring, it is important that we who are not so worldly-wise have a power to look to for guidance and advice. Thus it is that we turn to the Board of Trustees in matters which can be coped with by only the more experienced.

This group of people, who are chosen from the leaders of nearby communities, is the link binding our state and college together. Many are the duties which rest upon this board. Each month, they meet with Dr. Swope and review the problems which have arisen. Various committees discuss these problems and provide the best possible solutions.

The noted and continuous improvement of our college comes as a result of their hard and ceaseless work. We of West Chester feel assured that decisions made by Board of Trustees are for our welfare and for the betterment of West Chester.

WE PAY TRIBUTE

DR. THOMAS J. S. HEIM

With sincere appreciation for his constant interest in SERPENTINE, his never-ending encouragement, and for his invaluable assistance in the field of photography, we pay tribute to Dr. Thomas J. S. Heim.

He has spent many long hours teaching our photography staff the fundamentals of taking pictures, as well as the rudiments of printing and developing. He has kindly offered to us prints from his own collection of college pictures. In every way possible, he has given us material assistance in compiling our yearbook.

But even beyond this material assistance has been his encouraging and friendly spirit. His customary greeting to editor and staff members, "How is SERPENTINE coming along?" has been a frequent spur to redoubled effort. In a sense, we might call him an unofficial member of our staff.

For his help we are, indeed, deeply grateful.

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
WEST CHESTER

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

TO MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:

Four years in retrospect is a very brief span of time. Often you will look back upon your college years with grateful and abiding memories. You will remember that your mind was challenged, your curiosity aroused, your vision widened, your horizon broadened, and your soul deepened. You are now prepared to go forward into the workaday world and to carry your full share of responsibility.

By fine living and enlightened teaching you will help to avoid some of the mistakes which have caused the confusion of the present age. The critical days now and beyond demand more of you than knowledge. They demand a burning conviction to battle against man's eternal enemies; namely, intolerance, bigotry, prejudice, and fear. You are challenged to dedicate your life to the task of elevating human personality and to help order the arts, sciences, and technologies toward the building of a society of good will. May your spirit not be shriveled by the hatred, bitterness, and violence of the present hour, but rather may this suffering make you determined to build a more livable world. Seek to increase your mental horizon to encompass all mankind in your hope and understanding.

Your college years have brought you the joy of growth and the splendor of beauty. Now you are ready for the glory of action. Our best wishes for a rich and useful life go with you.

Sincerely yours,

DR. CHARLES S. SWOPI

MR. WINFIELD W. MENEHNETT
Dean of Instruction and Registrar

TO THE CLASS OF 1944:

As the school year draws to a close and Graduation Day becomes a reality, we pause in retrospect and then face the future. War in its reality has been close and many have felt its cruel force. Our thoughts go out to those who would have been graduated with the class of 1944. Scattered far and wide, they, too, are thinking of West Chester and of Graduation Day. Duty called them, and now they are giving in service all that can be asked of these brave, loyal citizens. They, in answering the call to duty, will help make a world free for you who are now members of the Graduating Class.

At this point, a new responsibility comes to you, presenting at the same time an opportunity for the greatest of services. The future will be in a great measure colored by your activities as teachers. Many thousands of children must be trained and prepared to carry and protect the freedoms which our boys are giving back to us as our rightful heritage. Without a thorough and sane training of the children and youth of America, all that their sacrifices represent might be lost. The first duty facing you on this day is the duty to devote the very best that you have to teaching. The teacher has the most enviable position among those who formulate thought, mold character, and develop personality.

Today, it is said that no place on the earth's surface is more than sixty hours from your own home. This brings us in intimate contact with many places and with all classes of people. Life takes on new meanings and living becomes more of a cooperative enterprise. We must learn how to live in close contact and cooperatively with others. At the same time, we must by example and by sound teaching lead others to this same attitude and practice of cooperative living.

My hope is that West Chester has produced this in your life. My wish is that you will go out into the schools of our Nation and teach others the best that life has to offer. To me, it seems that the proudest moment in one's life is when he or she can say "I SERVE".

WINFIELD W. MENEHNETT,

MRS. IRENE M. KING

DEAN OF WOMEN

As Dean of Women, Mrs. King aims to make the residents of Main Dorm appreciate the values of associating and living with other people. Mrs. King will always be remembered by West Chester students for her originality and thoughtfulness in creating a homelike atmosphere, her enthusiasm in planning events for the enjoyment of the students, and above all, for her sincere and understanding nature.

MISS LEONE BROADHEAD

ADVISER TO WOMEN

In the short time that she has served as Adviser to Women, Miss Broadhead has proved most capable in her associations with the residents of Main Dormitory. Conscientious and efficient, Miss Broadhead has combined her duties as a member of the Geography Department and as assistant Dean of Women in an enviable way. Her real interest in the welfare of the students has made her known and appreciated by all.

MRS. ELSIE BERT

DORMITORY SUPERVISOR

As dormitory supervisor, Mrs. Bert helps to solve quite competently any and all problems that arise in connection with dormitory life. In addition, she has proved to be a most loyal friend to the girls in the dormitory and is always ready to lend a helping hand and an understanding heart to assist someone in need.

PERSONNEL DEPARTMENT

Few departments on this campus have played so important a part in the lives of our students as has the Personnel Department. Its many and varied duties include supervision of student employment on campus, administration of student loans, sponsorship of college testing programs, direction of extra curricular activities, and cooperation with personnel officers in helping students adjust and develop themselves.

Under the direction of Dr. Earl F. Sykes, this organization maintains its reputation as a most successful and beneficial group on campus. Dr. Sykes is also acting Dean of Men, replacing Mr. Ralph Rieker.

DR. EARL F. SYKES

MR. ERMON M. POSTLES

BUSINESS OFFICE

To Mr. Ermon M. Postles and his able staff falls the task of administering the finances of the college.

It is the duty of this office not only to collect fees from students, but also to keep individual receipts and records.

In addition to other financial matters too numerous to mention, this office is headquarters for sale of student-trolley tickets, which can be purchased through the school at half-price.

MISS EVES and MRS. BONSTALL

HEALTH SERVICE

Despite the fact that this college now lacks the convenience of maintaining its own physician, the standards and services of health have decreased in no way.

Each student entering West Chester is required to take a complete physical examination and the Mantoux Test for tuberculosis. These are only two features of the program established to insure good health to the students.

To Miss Eves and Mrs. Bonsall goes much of the credit for the physical well-being of the members of the student body.

MAINTENANCE DEPARTMENT

Order and efficiency are the main qualities displayed by this department. To provide well-balanced meals for students is the work of our capable dietitian, Miss Mary Wilson.

To Mr. Freel, head of this department, falls the task of purchasing food supplies, supervising construction work on campus, and keeping everything moving smoothly.

The comforts and surroundings of Main Dorm are credited to Mrs. Patterson. When something refuses to work right, the student usually seeks Mrs. Patterson to have it repaired.

Perhaps one is not always conscious of the work of this department. However, we understand and appreciate the efforts of those in charge.

Art Department

Art Department: MARION FARNHAM, A.B., A.M.; HAZEL LAMBORN, B.S., M.A.

Courses offered by the Art Department are not limited to instruction in painting and drawing. History and Appreciation of Art surveys the main periods of art throughout the ages. It develops fundamental principles of judgment and increases the enjoyment of art in everyday life. Evidence of the work done by this department is apparent in the posters distributed throughout the campus and in the decorations for social events.

Education Department: GEORGE R. CRESSMAN, B.S., A.M., Ph.D.; ROLAND CHATTERTON, B.S., A.M., Ph.D.; MARY CONNELL, B.S., M.A.; BENJAMIN W. DAILY, A.B., M.A., Ph.D.; KATHARINE DENWORTH, A.B., A.M., Ph.D.; THOMAS J. S. HEIM, B.S., M.A., Ed.D.; FRANCES HOBBS, B.S., M.A.; MABEL KESSLER, B.S. M.A., Ph.D.; ANNA E. SMITH, B.S., M.A.; EARL F. SYKES, B.A., M.A., Ed.D.

The aim of the Education Department is to acquaint students with the many problems and situations that they will meet in the classroom and to help them solve these problems. Training in psychology prepares the prospective teacher to understand the pupils of various ages with whom he will work.

DR. GEORGE R. CRESSMAN
Head of the

MISS GRACE D. MCCARTHY
Head of the English Department

English Department: GRACE D. MCCARTHY, A.B., A.M.; FERN BARRER, A.B., M.A.; MARY ELIZABETH CLARK, A.B., A.M.; FLO GEYER, A.B., Ed.M. in English; DOROTHY RAMSEY, B.S., M.A.; KENNETH C. SLAGLE, B.A., M.A., Ph.D.; S. ELIZABETH TYSON, B.S., M.A.; JOSEPHINE WILSON, A.B., A.M.

The English Department strives primarily for two things—the development of skills in the use of the English language, and the encouragement of an appreciation of literature, both ancient and modern. The courses offered range from speech problems to the drama. In addition, special method courses are offered.

Foreign Language Department: ETHEL M. STALEY, A.B., PH.D.

French and Latin are the two languages offered to students who desire to become teachers in those fields. French courses include study of the Romantic and Realistic Movements; French literature, art, music, and science. The six courses offered in Latin deal with a general review of mythology, the Punic and Gallic Wars, Cicero, and Horace's Odes and Satires.

That the importance of geography is growing is a recognized fact here at West Chester. New courses, including map reading and meteorology, have been added to the department. Other courses give students an understanding of world patterns and natural environments, as well as up-to-date methods of teaching modern geography.

Health and Physical Education Department: HARRY R.
ALLEN, B.S., M.S.; ELEANORE ALDWORTH, B.S., M.A.;
CHARLES L. GRAHAM, B.P.E., M.A.; MURIEL LEACH, B.S.,
M.A.; ANNE SCHAU, B.S., M.A.; MYRA I. WADE, B.S., M.A.

One of the special curricula offered at West Chester is the Health and Physical Education course. The main purpose of this department is to train teachers in the field of health and physical education. However, a Physical Fitness program, whereby all students receive at least two hours weekly of physical instruction, is provided for the academic students of the college.

MR. HARRY R. ALLEN
Head of the Health and Physical Education Department

MISS HELEN A. RUSSELL
Head Librarian

Library: HELEN A. RUSSELL, A.B., B.S., M.S.

From early in the morning until late in the evening, one sees students entering the Library - doing research work for term papers, units, or various projects. A course in Library Science, which is required of each student, enables the student to learn how to use the Library to greatest advantage.

Mathematics Department: HALE G. PICKETT, PH.B.ED., M.A.,
PH.D.; MARY M. HOLLAND, B.A., M.A.

Because of the growing demand for mathematicians, more attention is being given to the courses offered by this department. Advanced and refresher courses are offered to those entering the armed services; methods and techniques in teaching mathematics are given to students majoring in this field.

DR. HALE G. PICKETT
Head of the
Mathematics Department

MISS GERTRUDE K. SCHMIDT
Head of the Music Department

Music Department: GERTRUDE K. SCHMIDT, B.S., MUS., M.A.; NELLIE M. ASHENFELTER, B.S., MUS., M.ED.; EMILY V. MITCHELL, B.MUS., M.M.; MATHILDA MORLOCK, B.S., M.A.; HILLARY H. PARRY; EDWARD ZIMMER, JR., B.S., M.A.

When one thinks of West Chester, one thinks of Music, for the reputation established by the members of this department is an unusual one. Although the primary purpose is to train supervisors in Public School Music, all students enjoy the talents of the department. Membership in the instrumental and vocal groups is open to students of all curricula.

Science Department: ROBERT B. GORDON, B.Sc., M.Sc., Ph.D.;
THELMA J. GREENWOOD, B.S., M.A.; KENNETH BRADDOCK-
ROGERS, B.S., M.S., Ph.D.; WILLARD J. TREZISE, B.S., Ph.D.

Science courses are open to all students, regardless of curriculum. Survey, orientation, and laboratory courses are required by those students training to be teachers in this field.

CLASS ADVISERS

DR. CHARLES W. HEATHCOTE

MISS MURIEL LEACH

Our class has been most fortunate in having not merely two but four faculty advisers during our stay at West Chester.

During our first three years, we had as our able guides and companions Miss Ruby Boggs and Dr. William Vollbrecht. Under their able direction we grew from "green" and inexperienced freshmen to poised, campus-wise juniors. We owe to their wise supervision many of our successful activities, including our Junior Prom, "Tuxedo Junction."

At the opening of our eventful, all-important Senior year, we found that Miss Boggs had left the college to be married, and that Dr. Vollbrecht had taken a leave of absence to work with the American Red Cross. We were not long without advisers, however, for Miss Muriel Leach and Dr. Charles Heathcote soon undertook the task of helping us through our last, most memorable year at West Chester. They have proved to be the most efficient of advisers and the most loyal of friends.

To each of these worthy advisers—Miss Boggs, Miss Leach, Dr. Heathcote, and Dr. Vollbrecht—go our deepest admiration and respect. We pay tribute to them, not only for their valuable advice and leadership, but even more for their incomparable, inestimable friendship.

CLASS OFFICERS

UHLER, ROSENTOOR, ROBERTS, BECK

The Class of '44 has always been noted on the West Chester campus for its unusual vitality, and throughout the four years at the college it has shown a great deal of the proverbial pep, vim, and vigor.

Beginning with our Freshman Stunt Nite, continuing with our Sophomore picnic and reaching a climax in our most successful Junior Prom "Tuxedo Junction," with its lovely queen, Joanne Haldeman, our activities have shown continual promise of what was to come in our Senior year.

That promise was to be fulfilled in spite of the fact that wartime conditions had greatly depleted the number of our class. A highlight of this final year at West Chester was our "Hallowe'en Hilarium", a barn dance held in President Swope's barn. Extensive plans have also been made for our class play and for Senior Weekend.

Leaders of the class have been Harold Roberts, president; Estelle Rosentoor, vice-president; Jeanette Uhler, secretary; Alvine Beck, treasurer; Margaret Register, editor-in-chief of Serpentine; Mary Frame, business manager of Serpentine. When Miss Frame left campus to accept a teaching position in New York State, the position of business manager was most capably taken over by Clara-Smith Billingslea, a member of the business staff.

OUR SERVICE MEN

OUR COLLEGE HONOR ROLL

Many members of the Class of Nineteen-hundred Forty-four are no longer on campus; they will not stand in chapel with us on that eventful day when we receive our diplomas. Instead, they are scattered throughout the world, serving in the armed forces of our country, fighting so that West Chester and all the things for which it stands may survive "through endless days." Yet in spite of the vast distances which may separate them from us, they are still to us an integral part of our class, and as such, it seems most fitting that they should have a part in this, our class yearbook.

So it is to these fellow classmates now serving in the United States Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, that we, with greatest pride, dedicate the following pages of our book. It is, we say, with the greatest pride, and yet, at the same time, with a certain personal humility; for while we take pride in the glories and triumphs of these classmates of ours, we feel most humble that our way of showing our pride and appreciation cannot be more significant. Yet we offer the following pages as our tribute to our men in service. May this section in a small way show the honor in which we hold these fighting sons of West Chester, for whose safety and well-being we constantly pray.

FACULTY IN SERVICE

West Chester has contributed not only many students and alumni to the armed forces, but also many faculty members as well. They have gone to various places far from our peaceful campus to contribute whatever of their services may be of value to their country. We are proud of them and of their various contributions to the better world to come. Wherever they may be, wherever they may go, our prayers and best wishes go with them.

JUNIOR CLASS

The Class of 1945 has been known ever since its freshman year as a class that can accomplish great things in spite of adverse conditions. An example of this ability was shown during this, its junior year, when, in spite of many difficulties, it managed to carry on the tradition of the annual Junior Prom. Miss Ruth Miller was the chairman of this year's event, which was known as "Gremlins' Holiday"; Miss Irma Kane was chosen as Prom Queen. It was judged by all a campus success.

Admirable leadership was furnished to the class by its well-chosen officers. Cathleen Leddon served as president, with Ruth Miller as vice-president. Rosalind Kahn, as treasurer, was in charge of class financial affairs, while Jane Shearer performed the duties of secretary. Ruth Young and Evelyn Wentzel represented the class on the Extra-curricular Committee, and the faculty advisers were Dr. Kessler and Mr. Keenan.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Upon their return to campus this year as experienced Sophomores, the Class of 1946 seemed filled with a great desire to "do something", with the result that they were well represented in many activities. In social affairs, athletics, and extra-curricular activities, as well as scholastic matters, the Sophomore Class has played its part in a most commendable fashion.

Much of the credit for the management of the class and for its successful participation in so many fields of endeavor goes to its class advisers, Miss Blair and Dr. Picdett. But efficient class officers, who have spent much time and energy in arranging class affairs, are also partly responsible. The office of president was held by Katherine Behrens. Lois Rhoads was vice-president; Jane Montz was secretary; and Laurie Welter acted as treasurer. Sophomore members of the Extra-curricular Committee were Ila Headley, Patricia Doyle, and Gene Thomson.

FRESHMAN CLASS

This year's freshman class has proved to be a valuable asset to West Chester. Not only did their numbers add to our diminished enrollment, but their zest and fine spirit have done much for the morale of the college. As a group they are to be commended, for in spite of the many enticing allurements of a war-time world, they have come to the college to prepare for a teaching career.

The "Frosh" quickly became adapted to campus life and became worthwhile school citizens.

While many of their activities were curtailed owing to our war-time social calendar, the freshmen were outstanding in other ways, especially in the field of sports where they supplied most of our outstanding athletes, such as Merle Meyers, stellar soccer player.

The following served as officers of the Class of 1947:

President	JEANNE SEVISON
Vice-President	JANE REID
Secretary	CORA SCHEETZ
Treasurer	AUDREY BROWN

EXTRA-CURRICULAR PROGRAM

After years of profitable experience in this regard, West Chester now proudly boasts a well-planned and well-executed extra-curricular program. This program firmly advocates that the successful individual is the well-rounded individual, and hence has endeavored to offer an excellent opportunity for student participation in an extensive and varied assortment of activities. These activities have become instilled in the lives of the students of both today and yesteryear.

Of a varied and inclusive nature, the program is destined to fit the individual needs of the student. Religious, professional, and social aspects are all a part of the program. In the course of the years, there is to be noted an interesting fluctuation in both the nature and the program of the different types of clubs. In each instance, the Extra-curricular Program has proved both its flexibility and utility in adjusting itself to the student demands and interests.

Indeed, the entire program has become an integrated part of the student life here at West Chester. This year has proved to be no exception in the splendid extra-curricular program. Not only have clubs and organizations continued to function actively, but several new clubs have been created and are now well established features of the program. Both old and new clubs may proudly record the past year as a thoroughly pleasurable and profitable experience.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES ASSOCIATION

Standing: DR. ALLEN, RHOADS, SHEFFIELD, DeCHANT, MR. GINTER
Seated: SHEPPARD, WIGNALL, DR. ANDERSON, KANE, JERVIS

PURPOSE: To direct a well-organized financial program by co-ordinating the receipts and expenditures of the Student Activity Fee, as well as all other financial resources, is the tremendous task of the S.A.A.

ACTIVITIES: Despite the drastic reduction in income this past year, the S.A.A. continued to maintain its high standards in presenting an exceptionally fine All Star Program; in sponsoring many clubs; in supporting sports on campus; and in planning fine programs and activities which are made available to the entire student body, without additional cost. The All Star Events featured such outstanding entertainers as Draper and Adler, the Philadelphia Opera Company, Ely Culbertson, Eileen Farrell and John Gurney, Edward Tomlinson, and the Rochester Symphony Orchestra conducted by Jose Iturbi.

WOMEN'S DORMITORY COUNCIL

PURPOSE: To solve the problems arising among the dormitory women, as well as to make living in the dormitory not only a profitable but also a pleasurable experience, is the undertaking of this council.

ACTIVITIES: In addition to maintaining Councilors on each floor who serve as representatives of the students, this council sponsors various hall parties throughout year, arranges Open House Days, Better Hall Campaigns, and plans for occasional teas and certain other recreational programs.

WOMEN'S DAY STUDENT COUNCIL

Back Row: SHELTON, MRS. KING, P. JOHNSON, SCULL
Second Row: SAYLOR, NEITHAMMER, THOMAS, JAMES
First Row: ELLENBERGER, BREWSTER, FINCKEN, BEARD, D. JOHNSON

PURPOSE: To help students with their problems; to represent Day Students in conjunction with the Dormitory Council on problems of mutual concern; to maintain a friendly spirit among the day students and to make them an integral part of all phases of college life; and to maintain a suite of rooms for the convenience and comfort of day students are the designs of this council.

ACTIVITIES: Social get-togethers including a gay Barnyard Shuffle and many informal cocoas, with refreshments and entertainment, are but a part of the numerous activities of this group. The World Student Fund Drive was successfully supported by the Council, as well as the cost of erecting the Honor Roll in tribute to all West Chester students in the Armed Services. The Mid-Winter Formal, long to be remembered by us, was another evidence of the hard work and ingenious planning of the Council in collaboration with the Dormitory Council.

ADVISORY BOARD

PURPOSE: To serve as a coordinating element between the Day and Dormitory Councils, and to enhance further student government and faculty-student relationships, as well as to provide a recreational program for all of the student-body—these are the vast responsibilities of the Advisory Board.

ACTIVITIES: If you've been wondering who was responsible for many of the informal dances on campus, such as the "Barrels of Fun" dance in the fall of this year, and the Christmas dance, as well as various teas, the answer lies in the successful undertakings of this organization. The Mid-Winter Formal is another of its outstanding examples of ingenuity and ability to carry any project undertaken right through to a brilliant finish. The seniors will long remember, also, the lovely Harvest Festival Tea, which was sponsored by the Board in honor of the graduating class.

PURPOSE: To stimulate and encourage talented students in dramatic experiences, as well as to present a high type of drama to the student body, is the goal of this organization.

ACTIVITIES: The fifty members of the Little Theatre Players have certainly experienced an active year. In October, "Papa Is All" was presented for Parents' Weekend. Then in December, you must remember those two one-act plays, "Lady Precious Stream", a Chinese presentation, and in direct contrast, "Why I Am A Bachelor". Certainly the fine production of "Cry Havoc" will be a lasting memory to many of us.

PRESS BOARD

PURPOSE: To publicize news of interest to the general public as well as to keep hometown newspapers in contact with their students here at the college is the objective of this organization.

ACTIVITIES: If you've sought in vain to learn how your latest achievement of this year found its place in your hometown paper, the answer lies in this group. In addition to this service, the members of the Press Board prepared the program for Parents' Weekend and for High School Day. A clipping scrapbook of all news submitted and published by the group was also maintained as a additional project.

PURPOSE: To keep the student body well informed in regard to happenings both on and off campus is the major objective of the entire staff of Quad Angles.

ACTIVITIES: This past year has witnessed several changes in the context of the paper, but these have in no way detracted from the high standards and reputation that are a part of "Quad". Fine editorials, a student opinion column, the very popular gossip column, book reviews, and a calendar of the week are but a few of the highlights of the paper. This year, an added feature is a section devoted to and about servicemen who were former members of our student body. In addition, the staff members undertook the project of mailing the paper, first class, to all these men, both in the United States and abroad. Early in the year, a program in the form of Information Please was sponsored by Quad for the enjoyment of the entire student body.

EPICUREAN CLUB

PURPOSE: To make the dining room agreeably pleasant and homelike, and to encourage and maintain a congenial spirit and gracious manner: therein are the goals of this club.

ACTIVITIES: Throughout the year, club members served as hosts and hostesses at the tables, and were responsible for birthdays nights as well as all other table parties during the holiday seasons. The Club also sponsored various after-dinner coffees and teas in the course of the year, as well as similar projects which tend to stimulate a "homey" feeling to all residents of the college.

POSTER CLUB

Standing: RAINVILLE, HANEY, FINGERHUT
Seated: MISS LAMBORN

PURPOSE: To offer opportunity to the artistically-inclined students to put their talents to a worthwhile use is the design of the Poster Club.

ACTIVITIES: Has your curiosity ever prompted you to wonder about the origin of those clever signs posted on familiar bulletin boards and in other conspicuous nooks and corners about campus? Your answer lies in the work of the Poster Club, a club with a very definite purpose—publicizing campus activities on campus as well as elsewhere. In addition to the regular series of posters, this year the Club contributed a special series to be used by Dr. Sykes in his campaign to advertize the place and importance of the teaching profession.

ASSOCIATION FOR EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

PURPOSE: To study and to improve education opportunities for young children is the undertaking of this club.

ACTIVITIES: One of the very successful organizations on campus is the Association for Early Childhood Education. With the combining of this club and the Rural Club, the program took on added interests. Some of the many undertakings of the club include an interesting exhibition of dolls portraying the characters of Miss Marguerite DeAngeli's books; dressing dolls portraying the Student Nursery; and making sock dolls for the Nursery Children. In addition, the club was privileged to enjoy lectures by Miss Altrichter, teacher of the special class at the Auditorium School; by Mrs. Bonsall, one of the nurses from the college staff; and by Miss Warrington, Probation Officer of the Juvenile Court of West Chester.

Seated: PIERCE, CRABBS, KAUFMANN, WOLFBERG, HAWKINS, CHOMALOU

PURPOSE: To become acquainted with the Spanish Language was the intent of the members of the Language Club this past year.

ACTIVITIES: Club members, not only French and Latin students, but any other students who possessed a curiosity about language, centered their attentions upon the reading of a Spanish newspaper, as well as studying in some detail the peculiarities of the language. Naturally, those students previously acquainted with the language were at an advantage, but every member attained a certain feeling of satisfaction and appreciation that accompanies a novel undertaking well done.

PURPOSE: To supplement geography books and classes with practical, essential, yet interesting facts is the major objective of the Geography Professional Club.

ACTIVITIES: This past year, appropriately enough, concentration was focused upon the studying and reading of military maps. Discussions correlating geography and contemporary events, as well as informal lectures by former members of the Club now in the Service, added variety to the program of the year.

PURPOSE: To give students an opportunity to learn how local history—documents, books, and landmarks—can be and should be used to supplement textbooks in the teaching of history is the aim of this club.

ACTIVITIES: Field trips to historic points of interest in this locality played an important role in the program of the club this year. Discussions, led by versatile Dr. Heathcote, stressed the importance of using primary source material in the classroom, and hence the importance of knowing something about this material. A delightful tea at the home of the club's adviser added a festive note prior to Christmas vacation.

SCIENCE CLUB

PURPOSE: To further inform the scientific-minded students on campus and to facilitate their keeping posted on contemporary science problems and advancements are the objectives of this club.

ACTIVITIES: The club enjoyed a variety of programs wherein science of today was discussed and further appreciated. Though the club consists chiefly of science-majors, all students interested in the field of science and problems of current significance in the field are welcome to attend the meetings. This is the first year for this newly-organized club, which has already found a ready place in the interests of many students.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFERENCE on GOVERNMENT and WORLD AFFAIRS

*Standing: DR. ANDES, WOLF, CRAIG, LEHMAN, KURLANSIK
Seated: MCGROERTY, FLECHSIG, JONES, SHELTON*

PURPOSE: To develop freedom of thought, as well as thought free from prejudice and ignorance, is the intent of this group.

ACTIVITIES: Among the outstanding organizations of every college campus, one will always find a debating society, a discussion club, or a current events conference. Here on our campus, the Intercollegiate Conference on Government and World Affairs serves as a composite of the aforementioned. In the past year, under the inspiring leadership of Dr. Andes, contemporary world affairs have been the subject of the impartial, enlightening discussions, culminating in meaningful, graphic understandings by the participants.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR ACTIVITY COMMITTEE

PURPOSE: To help in the organization and administration of the Extra-curricular Program is the primary function of this committee; to encourage thought and selection in extra-curricular activities by the student body is another very pertinent aim.

ACTIVITIES: Those well-planned activities, which we, the students, choose to fit our own individual interests, represent the forethought and careful planning of this Committee. Despite the fact that the variety of clubs has diminished this year, the Committee has continued to suggest and approve any and all activities worthy of leisure time use.

SPEECH CLINIC

PURPOSE: To train prospective teachers in the methods of remedial treatment for special defects, as well as to make educators and society cognizant of the drastic need for a definite speech program in the schools, is the aim of this clinic.

ACTIVITIES: Diagnosis of speech defects and practical experience in treating these defects constitute a major part of the work of the Speech Clinic. In addition, speech tests are administered and records are made as an integrated part of the diagnostic program. Students, specially trained in Speech Problems and Remedial Treatment, apply the theory of the classroom in a practical manner within the clinic. Some of the more proficient students, guided by Miss Tyson, assist in the extensive remedial speech program on campus, including both students from the College and the Demonstration School.

Standing: KESSLER, DEAN MENHENNETT, CONRAD
Seated: REID, L. STONER, STULTZ, REICHARD, DECKER

PURPOSE: To acquaint students who are interested in the teachings and literature of the Bible, and to deal with these facts in a non-sectarian fashion are the aims of the Bible Study Club.

ACTIVITIES: The past year, the Bible Study Club, led in discussion by Dean Menhennett, turned its attentions to an intensive study of selected parables. Many interesting programs of a varied nature made up the year's activities, including a study of Christ's teachings as they might be applied today.

DORMITORY

PURPOSE: To provide wholesome social and religious life to students on campus, and to make possible a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God are the goals of this group.

ACTIVITIES: The Y.W.C.A. presents weekly programs of a varied and interesting nature, and also sponsors joint meetings of all religious clubs on campus. Occasionally an outside speaker addresses the group. An annual undertaking of the "Y" is the Christmas Bazaar, which offers a variety of gifts and enables the students to do their Christmas shopping right on campus.

DAY

PURPOSE: "To realize a full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God" most graphically expresses the aim of this group.

ACTIVITIES: The Y.W.C.A. is another of the prominent clubs on campus having both a dormitory and day student division. The Day Student Division has had a very successful year, including a tea in the Fall, which followed the Membership Drive; several programs of music, outside speakers, and discussions in keeping with their objectives. The Thanksgiving and Christmas projects consisted of making layettes for the Welfare Center, an undertaking which gained and held the enthusiasm of those members participating.

NEWMAN CLUB

PURPOSE: To fulfill a threefold purpose—spiritual, educational, and social—is the objective of this club.

ACTIVITIES: Each year, the club sponsors a variety of programs in keeping with its threefold purpose. This program includes lectures by prominent speakers, as well as conferences and other social affairs presented by the National Federation of Newman Clubs. The local order of this Federation holds an important and revered place in the hearts of the Catholic students on campus; frequently they receive Holy Communion in a body at St. Agnes' Church. Another service this year was the distribution of Spiritual Bouquets to Catholic servicemen, former students of the college.

CARDOZA CLUB

Standing: LYNN, JEFFRIES, KURLANSKI, GROSS, MOSKOWITZ
Sated: SCHWARTZ, ROSENFELD, CORCHIN, HUNN, KAUFMANN

PURPOSE: To provide guidance to Jewish students as well as to offer an opportunity to these students to socialize together is the dual purpose of this particular club.

ACTIVITIES: The program of this club featured speakers, both on and off campus, who presented talks of a varied nature. Though the club has more than a mere social significance, it serves invaluable in unifying Jewish students on campus.

COLLEGE CHOIR

PURPOSE: To offer opportunity to students to appreciate more fully sacred music and to participate in the singing of this music are the aims of the College Choir.

ACTIVITIES: The choir, composed of music students, plays an active part in the annual Carol Service, and offers an invaluable service in furnishing music for the Sunday Morning Chapel Programs throughout the year. The Spring Concert is also another activity in which this group participates.

PURPOSE: To acquaint all women enrolled in the music curriculum with sacred and music appropriate for future use in their work as teachers is the objective of this group.

ACTIVITIES: This choral organization contributes magnanimously to the success of the Carol Service, and also offers at least one other concert during the year. Under the inspiring direction of Miss Schimdt, the Junior Chorus has attained an enviable reputation on our campus.

Director: Miss SCHMIDT

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

PURPOSE: To offer pleasurable as well as profitable opportunity to develop musical talents among the academic girls is the major intent of this club.

ACTIVITIES: Directed by the congenial and talented Miss Emma Kiess, the club ably participated in the traditional Carol Service. In addition, a Spring Concert was presented, which will long be remembered by everyone on campus.

MIDDLETON, Flute: SMITH, Clarinet: DELACATO; Bassoon: MRS. MIDDLETON; Trumpet: MORRIS; Horn: MR. OLMES; Percussion: RHOADS, KRETZ; Piano: MCCORMICK.

PURPOSE: To bring before the members of our community and the public in general, a few of the many fine works written especially for chamber orchestras.

ACTIVITIES: As is indicated by its name, the Sinfonietta is a "little symphony", and so must be well balanced. Members of the group are carefully selected, and vacancies are filled after the holding of auditions.

The Sinfonietta plays a prominent part in campus life and has represented the college in concerts held in other communities. This year the group presented a delightful program in April.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Conductor, MR. MIDDLETON; First Violin: MR. PURPOSE: To acquaint students with great music, methods of playing this music well, and to instill an appreciation of this music both in members of the orchestra as well as in the student body are the goals of this group.

ACTIVITIES: The Symphony Orchestra concentrates on developing an appreciation and technique in regard to truly great music. Students other than those in the Music Curriculum may become members if they qualify. Each year a memorable concert is presented for the enjoyment of all.

Conductor: MR. MIDDLETON

CONCERT BAND

PURPOSE: To offer opportunity to study standard symphonic band works and band transcriptions of orchestral works is the chief objective of this organization. The Concert Band is composed of music students as well as academic students who are interested in such study.

ACTIVITIES: Under the very capable direction of Mr. Edward Zimmer, the Concert Band has made a very definite contribution to our college life. The members of the band have gained an insight into that type of musical endeavor and have received valuable experience through their efforts. The college community enjoyed the fine musical offered by the band at its April concert.

Conductor: MR. ZIMMER

Director: Mr. Zimmer; Flutes: Chambers, Garner, E. Miller; Piccolo: Hickernell; Oboe: Bartholomew, Brodie; English Horn: Mr. Middleton; Alto saxophone: Kessler, Hetrick, Hendershott; Tenor saxophone: Prosser, Foote; Clarients: Luckenbill, Jarrett, Delcato, Dasch; F. Rhoads; Lemmel; Litvin; Wagner.

CRITERIONS

RHOADS, KRETZ, DELACATO, HOFFMAN, DORAN, MORRIS, LUCKENBILL

PURPOSE: To offer an opportunity to those students who are interested to play as well as to compose and arrange popular music is but one aim of the Criterions, who also provide the music for all dances on campus, as well as for dances in the locality.

ACTIVITIES: Who could think of the Mid-Winter Formal, the Junior Prom, or Senior Weekend, to say nothing of the many informal dances of the year, without giving due consideration to that group who so capably furnished the music for the occasion? In addition, this group of musicians entertains frequently off campus and has gained a reputation as a fine dance orchestra.

GIRLS' DANCE ORCHESTRA

(CO-EDS)

PURPOSE: To provide opportunity to girls, so inclined, to play popular music, as well as to compose and to arrange numbers for the quartette or the entire orchestra, is the ultimate design of the Girls' Dance Orchestra.

ACTIVITIES: Not many colleges can boast of two dance orchestras, and especially is this true when one considers that one of these orchestras is composed entirely of girls. We are all indebted to the Girls' Orchestra for its fine participation at various dances and parties during the past year.

SOCIAL SERVICE CLUB

PURPOSE: To seek out the needs of the community and to fulfill them to the best of their ability are the chief objectives of the members of this club.

ACTIVITIES: Just as most communities proudly boast of the fine work of their Social Service Club, so we here on campus point with pride to our branch of these clubs. At the holiday seasons, the Club prepared Thanksgiving and Easter baskets for needy families; at Christmastime, stockings, chock-full of candy and toys, were distributed to less fortunate children. In addition, stocking dolls were made and given to English children, as well as a donation to a Braille Periodical Magazine for a nearby Blind Institution. This last project proves that the enthusiastic work of the Club is not limited to one or two holiday seasons in a year.

KOLLEGE KLUB

PURPOSE: To meet the demands for pleasurable and profitable social life among the Negro students of the College, the Kollege Klub was established.

ACTIVITIES: Rather than the annual dance sponsored by the club, this year a delightful piano and organ recital by Ulysses G. Chambre was presented. This was the contribution of this group to the many cultural and intellectual programs on campus, and was made even more delightful by an added feature, a vocal trio of Cheyney students.

Because of the shortage of men students on the West Chester campus there was some doubt as to whether the college would take part in inter-collegiate athletics. When Coach Benner issued a call for men interested in soccer, twenty-one candidates answered.

The material was scant and almost completely green. What the boys lacked in experience, they made up for in determination and fight.

When the first game with the University of Pennsylvania rolled around, West Chester put on the field a first class soccer team, even though the final score read 15-0 in favor of University of Pennsylvania.

The West Chester team was not nearly so bad as the score would seem to indicate, for our soccer team more than held its own. It was only during a lapse in defensive tactics that the U. of P. forwards would crease the nets for a tally. Most of their scoring came in bunches. A fighting spirit was noted, however, in Coach Benner's squad, for this team of inexperienced ball players played hard for the Purple and Gold.

The following week the West Chester Rams traveled to Newark, Delaware, to tackle the Blue Hens of the University of Delaware, and were handed a 6-1 defeat.

With the score reading 6-0 in the favor of the Blue Hens and five minutes of the final quarter still remaining, West Chester finally tallied a score when Norman Sachs made good on a corner kick, for the only tally of the Rams in the game.

The following week the Rams again met the University of Delaware on Wayne field. The boys of the team played by far their best game of the season and were beaten by several tough breaks that resulted in goals. The Rams outfought, outplayed, and outcharged the opponents and finally scored when Michael passed to Sachs, who, in turn, passed to Meyers for the score. Meyers played brilliantly throughout the game.

West Chester next met the experienced Temple University squad in Philadelphia and was handed a 4-1 defeat. The entire game was played in a cold, driving downpour that hampered the play of both teams. Temple started out strong by scoring three fast counters in the first period. Temple by no means had a field day, for in the second period Merle Meyers drove the ball into the net.

From this point on, the Rams took the play from the Temple and were continually driving shots at the Owl goal tender. Playing his usual good game was Herman Sherman. He was a bulwark on defense, breaking up many of Temple's threats.

The Rams soccer team rung down the curtain for soccer when it was handed a 7-2 set-back by Haverford College. Hoping to wind up the season with a victory, they lacked the initiative and drive necessary for a triumph.

Haverford College was one of many years' experience against a comparatively green team. With this as a handicap, West Chester was more than able to hold its own, mainly because of the fine play of Merle Meyers. Meyers, who played brilliantly the entire season, garnered the Rams' only two counters, both scored in the second period. At half time the score was 4-2. To this score were added three more goals in the second half, thus making the final count read 7-2 with Haverford College on the heavy end.

Taking everything into consideration, we feel that the soccer season was not unsuccessful, for the players, most of whom were freshmen, received an incalculable supply of experience, a vital factor for the success of any athletic team.

Philadelphia Marines 65

West Chester 20

West Chester opened the 1945-44 basketball season at Ehinger Gym on Friday, December tenth, against the Philadelphia Marines, with final score reading 65 to 20, in favor of the Marines.

The Marines had four games prior to Saturday's contest, and they were set back but once. The team was a starstudded team of college and prep stars from all over the country. Included in this array was Lieutenant Wes Dorney, who graduated from West Chester last year.

The Rams quintet had no one from last year's squad and had to give much ground in height and experience. The first game must be chalked up to experience, for it was the first game of college calibre that any of the West Chester boys competed in. They missed shots that, had nervous tension not prevailed, would surely have creased the cords. The Purple and Gold foul shooting was off considerably.

High scorers for the Marine team were Wes Dorney with twelve and Paul Donat with thirteen points. For West Chester, Jay Greuner and Stan Hoffman each pulled the cords with six points.

Swarthmore Junior Varsity 65

West Chester 25

West Chester's basketball team lost its second tilt of the season to Swarthmore the following day in Ehinger Gym when it bowed to the Swarthmore College Jayvees by the score of 65-25.

The first half found the Purple and Gold giving the Quakers a real workout. At the end of the half, the visitors were in the lead by only six points. The scoreboard read 30-24. In the second half Swarthmore quickened its pace and went out in front to put a wide margin between the scores. Heading this attack were McCrory, Griffith, and Evans, high scorers of the evening, who totaled forty-five points in all for the visitors. Will Bartholomew led the home team with seventeen points.

Elizabethtown College 50

West Chester 35

West Chester's basketball team was handed its third straight defeat by Elizabethtown College, the final score being 50-35.

Elizabethtown College, a team with only seventeen men students, had three members from last year's varsity on its squad. One of these was a young fellow by the name of Guy Buch, who demonstrated some of the finest shooting and scoring ever witnessed in Ehringer Gymnasium. He amassed a total of twenty-six points, bringing his season's total to one hundred fourteen points in five games. His ability to hit the basket proved decisive in the final outcome of the contest.

West Chester was kept in the game mainly through the efforts of Ken Michael, elongated center on West Chester's five. Michael's ability to control the backboard and his deadly accuracy from the field gave him a total of fourteen points.

The Purple and Gold was behind 28 to 19 at the half. At the start of the third quarter it held Elizabethtown to but one field goal, but the failure of the home team to convert during this lull proved to be its downfall in the final tabulation.

The last quarter found Buch once again at work, and Elizabethtown moved out of the reach of Coach Graham's club.

Haverford College 64

West Chester 45

Losing their fourth game in as many starts, the Rams were handed a 64-44 defeat by Haverford College.

The invaders had a strong combination in George Montgomery and Frank Kennedy, crack shot-makers of Haverford, who totaled forty-two points between them. Although the Rams never headed the visitors, they kept the score to 19-29 at the half. It was in the second half that Haverford quickened its pace and widened the margin to the total score of 64-45.

The Grahammen made a good showing in the game even though they were defeated. Kenny Michael, center, headed the West Chester squad with five field goals and one foul shot, totaling eleven points. Other scorers for the Purple and Gold were Hoffman, Greuner, Wolfinger, Sachs, and Bartholomew.

Albright College 77

West Chester 25

West Chester's basketball team remained on the unhappy road of defeat when it suffered a 77-25 setback at the hands of a powerful Albright College team.

The game started out at a grueling pace with Albright jumping to a 9-2 lead. Then the Rams came to life, and five successive field goals saw West Chester gain the lead on undefeated Albright. The fans were howling and Albright quickly called a time out. It was then that the visitors quickened their pace and passed the gallant undersized Purple and Gold squad. The half ended with the Roaring Lions of Albright on the heavy end of a 34-18 count.

The second half proved to be a runaway for the Red and White, with John Durko and "Tiny" Landis leading the assault. These two men, both of whom are well over the six foot mark, assumed stationary roles under the basket and proceeded to drop in baskets with unflinching accuracy. At the completion of the contest, Albright had amassed a total of seventy-seven points, Durko having made thirty-four of these for a new Albright record. The only West Chester man able to do any high scoring was Jay Greuner, who had nine points.

University of Delaware 75

West Chester 40

West Chester's basketball team continued its losing ways by dropping a 75-40 decision to the University of Delaware, Saturday, January twenty-second, at Ehinger Gymnasium. Delaware had a strictly civilian team, and there were strong prospects for a victory prior to the game. The visitors squad, however, was composed of some of the better high school stars of the Wilmington area, and their efforts proved a great assistance in keeping Charlie Graham's Rams out of the victory column.

The Blue Hens of Delaware started out fast and rolled up a 17-2 lead before the first quarter had ended. Then the Rams hit their stride, and the first half saw Delaware on the heavy end of a 59-27 score. The second half found the boys from Newark putting on the heat, and they soon made the tilt a run-away. Duncan led the attack with a total of twenty-three points.

West Chester's attack was once again featured by Ken Michael, who hit the basket for sixteen points.

Pennsylvania Military College 27

West Chester 45

On Saturday, January the twenty-ninth, Charlie Graham's men broke the jinx at the Ehinger Gym, when they came through with their first win of the season by annexing Pennsylvania Military College, 45-27.

Coach Graham started a rejuvenated line-up with Roger Care replacing the ailing Ken Michael and Norman Sachs taking over Jay Greuner's slot. This new combination put on the finest performance yet displayed by the Purple and Gold squad. West Chester's ball-handling and shooting average proved more effective in this tilt than in any other game of the season.

The Rams jumped off to a fast start and rolled up a lead which they never relinquished. The score at half-time was 20-15, with West Chester on top. In the second half, despite a threatening drive from the Cadets, the Purple and Gold really found the range, with freshman Will Bartholomew leading the way. Bartholomew, shooting from all parts of the floor and at all angles, hit the cord for a total of twenty-two points.

In this half, other members of the team also found the hoop with Sachs and McIntyre adding eight and six points, respectively, to the score board. When the final gun sounded, West Chester had amassed a total of forty-seven points, and notched its first win of the season.

Albright College 68

West Chester 57

Coach Graham's basketball team displayed its best basketball of the season at the Ehinger gym February the ninth, when it met a giant Albright team. Our team, however, was overwhelmed in the last quarter and succumbed to a 68-57 defeat.

West Chester, playing a deliberate "waiting game," edged in front the first quarter to an 11 to 9 lead. This was possible mainly through the efforts of Bartholomew and Sachs. Albright managed to tie the score at sixteen all in the second quarter and held a 25-20 lead at the half-way mark. In the third quarter, the Rams soon eliminated the deficit and held a 24-25 lead. Then the height of Albright moved into view with six feet, five inches John Durko tapping the ball in from under the basket. At the conclusion of the third quarter, the Roaring Lions of Albright maintained a 58-28 advantage.

In the final period with Durko and Guss passing the attack, the visitors outscored the Purple and Gold 50-9, making the final count read 68-57.

For the Rams, Will Bartholomew continued his high scoring ways with sixteen points. Norman Sachs was second with seven. Roger Care played his usual brilliant floor game, and did a fine job of handing out passes to Bartholomew and Sachs. He also managed to tally five points.

Elizabethtown College 64

West Chester 25

Dropping back once more into the defeat column, the Rams lost to Elizabethtown College February fourth, 64-25, at Elizabethtown. This was their second defeat of the season at the hands of Elizabethtown.

The Blue and White thwarted all of West Chester's scoring attempts in the first period. Graham's Rams did, however, score four pointers by the foul route. The score at the half was 20-4, with Elizabethtown in front.

In the second half, the Purple and Gold managed to score twenty-three points, but the Elizabethtown lead was too great to overcome. Ken Michael continued his high-scoring ways by tabbing fifteen points for West Chester.

Washington College 70

West Chester 50

On February the twelfth the Rams traveled to Chestertown, Maryland, where they met Washington College and were defeated by a score of 70-50.

Washington gained an early lead and throughout the whole game did not slacken its pace. At the end of the first quarter, the Gramhammen were the losers of a 15-1 score, and during the second quarter they were still unable to fill the gap, the half score reading 55-19 in favor of the hosts.

The Purple and Gold found a tough opponent in Bob Duncan, bulwark of Washington's team, who totaled twenty-one points. Roger Care led the Rams with ten points.

Haverford College 75

West Chester 41

On February the eighteenth West Chester's basketball team traveled to Haverford and was handed a 75-41 defeat at the hands of Haverford College.

West Chester stayed on the heels of Haverford the entire first half. At the end of the first quarter, the home team maintained an 11-9 lead. When the first half ended, Haverford was on the heavy end of a 29-21 score. The third quarter saw big George Montgomery, high scorer of the Philadelphia district, running wild, and at the start of the final period, the score was 59-26. In the final period the Purple and Gold managed to score fifteen points to cut down the margin of defeat.

The high scorers for West Chester were Bill Bartholomew with twelve points, and Norman Sachs with ten points.

Washington College 45

West Chester 46

Staging a surprise comeback, Charlie Graham's Rams won a victory over Washington College February the nineteenth at Ehinger Gym, with a score of 46-45. It was just one week prior to this tilt that the Purple and Gold were trounced by Washington, 70-50.

In the first three quarters of the game, the visitors managed to keep a few points in the lead, despite the Rams' attempts to go out ahead. The first half found them trailing, 22-19, and the third quarter, 45-42.

It was in the final minutes of the game that things began to happen. Neither team was able score in the first thirty seconds of the last minute. With only thirty seconds to go until the final horn, Hoffman, West Chester, grabbed the ball and went on his way to drop the ball through the cords and bring the Rams one point behind Washington. In the process he was fouled, but his attempt to tie the score on this foul shot failed. Washington's Bill McDaniels recovered the ball and headed for a goal, but was called for running. The toss-in and a pass gave the ball to McIntyre, who sank it in the loop from the foul mark, and put the Rams out ahead, 46-45.

With mere seconds left, the visitors still did not give in. Norman Tarr gained the ball and tried to put Washington in the lead again. The try was thwarted, however, when the ball hit the rim and bounced off. Tarr immediately regained the ball and tried once more for a goal. This time the ball hit its mark. The play was ruled out, however, because the final horn was heard a fraction of a second before the ball left Tarr's hands. Thus, saved by the "bell", West Chester came out victorious, 46-45.

University of Delaware 54

West Chester 15

Traveling to Newark, Delaware, West Chester's basketball team once more dropped back into the defeat column, when it bowed to the University of Delaware, 54-15. It was the second time this season that the Rams were overpowered by the Blue Hens.

Charlie Graham's men were able to keep pace with the Delaware loopers in the first quarter, and the first quarter ended with the Rams only one point behind. In the second quarter, Delaware opened its attack and, with the able performance of Jerry Bowles, was able to end the first half with the lead of 27-9. In the last half, West Chester trailed hopelessly and the game ended with the Blue Hens thirty-nine points in the lead.

Sachs led the Rams with six points.

Pennsylvania Military College 47

West Chester 32

West Chester's basketball team dropped its final game of the current season to Pennsylvania Military College at P.M.C., when it was handed a 47-32 defeat. By virtue of this triumph, P.M.C. avenged a previous defeat dealt to them by the Rams earlier in the campaign.

The first quarter was nip and tuck with West Chester holding an 11-10 advantage at the conclusion. This lead, however, was short lived. The P.M.C. boys started to find the range in the second quarter and soon piled up a lead. At the halfway mark the score was 25-16 with the home team out in front. From then on it was just a matter of time. P.M.C., employing a zone defense on its small floor, broke up all of the Purple and Gold's efforts to score.

During the last quarter, West Chester did manage to cut down the margin, but at the final gun, P.M.C. was on the heavy end of a 47-32 score.

P.M.C. was paced by Charlie Russ, who had eighteen points. For the Rams, Norman Sachs was high scorer with eight points.

This game was West Chester's final one of the 1943-44 season. Despite the fact that we had only two victories, the Grahammen deserve a great deal of credit for their fine showing, and for the fact that they have kept sports alive at West Chester.

CROSS COUNTRY

*Standing: MICHAEL, VOWLER, COACH GRAHAM, PHENEGAR, ALLISON
Seated: SHERMAN, MACINTYRE, ALFORD*

The Cross Country team of West Chester gets little recognition on campus, considering the good performance it gives. The team this year had only two meets, but it had an undefeated season.

The first meet was on October 19, with West Chester High School. The final score read W.C.S.T.C. 25—W.C.H.S. 50. West Chester State Teachers took second, fourth, fifth, sixth, and eighth place with McIntyre, Spang, Burton, Allison, Sherman, Vowler, Michael, and Alford coming in in that respective order.

The second meet on November 4 was run against Lehigh. The score sheet at the end of the meet read West Chester 26—Lehigh 56. West Chester was the winner, taking second, fourth, fifth, seventh, and eighth place. Allison, McIntyre, Spang, Burton, and Serman took the honors for our running Rams.

Coach Graham can rightfully be pleased with the work of his Cross Country team this year. The boys made a fine showing, despite the fact that they were inexperienced and few in number.

W.R.A. stands for Women's Recreational Association. It is truly a club for all of the co-eds on campus. All women students are automatically members of the club; most of the girls participate in at least one of the club's activities in order to become active members.

The Club offers many varied activities throughout the year, such as hockey, basketball, badminton, swimming, roller skating, and tennis. Each sport is led by capable students who are elected each spring by the student body.

W.R.A. is one of the prominent organizations at West Chester. Many of the participants are Health Education students, but students from other curricula show a keen interest.

Miss Myra Wade is the faculty adviser for this well-organized club, while Beatrice Hoopes is the president. The club is run by the W.R.A. Council, which is composed of the managers of the different sports and the officers of the club.

The Women's Recreational Association is a club which should receive abundant recognition because it is an organization for all.

V—Valhala

Valhala is the secret chamber in which all Valkyrie members meet one Tuesday of every month. To become a member of the well known Valkyrie Club you must be a Health and Physical Education student for two semesters on West Chester campus. Each new member must adhere to three days of informal initiation prior to the solemn initiation in the presence of the Knightly Leader.

A—Able

Each one of the members is noted for her ability to perform tasks which are asked of her. The responsibility of the girls is proved by the success of such projects as the sale of tuberculosis seals, War Bonds and Stamps, and by the writing and producing of the Valkyrie Club's annual play.

L—Leaders All are leaders working to become good Valkyrians and to help others.

K—Knightly

Jeanette Uhler, who known to all, is Valkyrie's Knightly Leader. Miss Schaub is the capable faculty adviser.

Y—Youthful Each member is a college student. Each member is a "youth".

R—Reliable

The principle of reliability, upon which the club was founded, has been most prominent this year. Janet and Joan Thomas gave proof of this as authors of the faculty skit for the Valkyrie Club Show.

I—Idealistic Ideal of "Service to Others" is outstanding.

E—Earnest

Earnest in all they undertake, the members work for the success of the club, and of West Chester.

S—Sincere

All the members are sincere in their activities and in their desire to make Valkyrie one of the more worthwhile clubs on campus.

CHEERLEADERS

LAURIE WELTER

PAGUE HARGLEROAD

MARGARET FRANCK

"Here we go, you Rams, for victory"—That is our team.

"Let's carry on 'till the score is made"—These are our cheer leaders.

The squad of cheerleaders was considerably smaller this year since they had fewer athletic events at which to cheer. The size of the squad, however, did not hamper their spirit. When school spirit was needed, the squad was there ready to lead the student body in cheers and song and thus help teams to victory.

Each Friday morning chapel period, during soccer season, found the cheerleaders on the stage, cheering the team, giving the team inspiration for the game the following day. Did the Rams' leaders stop there? No, they would be at the game the following day, still encouraging the team to Victory.

During basketball season the cheerleaders could be found at each game, still cheering for the fighting Rams.

The faculty adviser for the cheerleading squad was Mr. Allen. Jane Pinkerton led the squad as captain, while Pague Hargleroad was the co-captain.

The qualifications for a cheerleader are appearance, personality, pep, and the spirit of the activities. Each one of our cheerleaders possessed these qualities.

The hockey tournament is conducted each year with great competition among the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior Health and Physical Education major students and a team of Academics. The Academics gave greater competition this year than ever before. Regardless of their great efforts, the major students of the Health Education department proved too great, skilled in both tactics and techniques.

The competition among the major classes was extremely keen. The freshmen, all with a fighting spirit, showed great possibilities. The sophomores gave their "all" in every game, even though the accelerated juniors and the juniors proved too skilled for them. The seniors were handicapped by having many of their best players accepting teaching positions off campus, a factor which weakened their team considerably. The accelerated juniors and the juniors made up the winning team. This team went through the season undefeated and tied only twice, once by the seniors and once by the sophomores. This is the first time in a number of years that the juniors have taken the Inter-Mural Tournament.

The Tournament was capably handled by Margaret Sheppard, who was manager of hockey. Miss Anne Schaub gave much of her valuable time and guidance to all teams, showing no partiality in her coaching.

Some of the more outstanding players on the teams were Peggy Reid of the Academics; Jo Sabo, Doris Lynch, and Alice Monroe of the freshman class; Doris Snyder, Bert Coppock, and Gladys Sager of the sophomore; while the junior team was led by Ann Hartnett, Margaret Sheppard, Janet Wignall, Betty Johnson and Ruth Servais. Some of the prominent seniors were Jeanette Uhler, Beatrice Hoopes, and Jean Wentz.

Hockey is steadily growing in interest. This interest shows itself in the spirit which all of the students exhibited as they participated in the activity.

ALL-STAR

MR. EDWARD TOMLINSON

Among the numerous traditional events and programs about our campus, the All-Star Programs have attained a unique place. Both faculty and student body anticipate these programs as highlights in the college year and among the most memorable events on the college calendar.

If ever there was a need for wholesome, worthwhile entertainment, that need is realized in the busy turmoil of the present day. Each year, distinguished lecturers and artists are presented in these programs, which are designed to give pleasurable and profitable hours of relaxation to all students. Perhaps the most effective means of proving the undertaking is a survey of the varied and enlightening programs of the past season.

THE ROCHESTER

On October 4, 1945, the initial program, featuring Paul Draper and Larry Adler, was presented. These two congenial artists exhibited extraordinary ability in their interpretations of both classical and popular music, ranging from Bach to Boogie-Woogie. Both artists will undoubtedly long be remembered for their very original interpretation of the term "ad lib", which is expressly what they did.

November 19 witnessed the presentation of "Die Fledermaus" by the Philadelphia Opera Company.

PROGRAMS

This tuneful, comic opera with its clever plot, colorful costuming, and bizarre setting was warmly accepted by the entire audience.

The third program of the series featured a lecture by Ely Culbertson. Enlightening plans for post war development were presented and discussed, followed by questions from the audience which were answered by Mr. Culbertson.

A joint recital by Eileen Farrell and John Gurney added the next pleasurable note to the current series. Both artists displayed versatility and talent in their interpretations of both classical and popular music.

On February 14, the second lecture of the All-Star Program was presented by Edward Tomlinson. The remarkably frank and direct style of the lecturer resulted in a most interesting discussion of "The Americas at War and Afterwards."

Last, but certainly not least in the events of the Entertainment Series, The Rochester Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Jose Iturbi, was featured. The delightful interpretations of a varied program sounded a dramatic note and served as a fitting finale to a most successful season of All-Star Programs.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

We, the staff of the 1944 SERPENTINE, wish to express our gratitude to those whose assistance throughout the year have made the publication of this annual possible.

To Mr. Harry L. Firth and the Lotz Photo-Engraving Company for their expert assistance and their speedy engraving.

To Mr. George Temple and the staff of the Temple Printing House for their fine suggestions and their excellent printing.

To Toni for his excellent photography.

To the Phillip's Studio for Mr. Shortlidge's picture.

To the three SERPENTINE advisers, Miss Mary Elizabeth Clark, Miss Marion Farnham, and Dr. Earl Sykes, without whom this book would not have been possible.

To all others who have helped in any way with this yearbook.
